The retention periods for personal data are specified in the Candidate Privacy Notice .

3. WHERE DO WE RECEIVE INFORMATION ABOUT YOU AND WHAT INFORMATION ARE YOU REQUIRED TO PROVIDE US?

Most of the information is provided by you, but we may receive some information about your personal data, for example, from legal entities you represent.

Please see the answer to Chapter 2 above – you must provide the information about you that is necessary to:

- enter into contracts with you and fulfil our contractual obligations;
- if you do not provide the information specified, we will not be able to enter into contracts with you and/or persons you represent and fulfil contractual obligations.

4. WHO DO WE TRANSFER INFORMATION ABOUT YOU TO?

We provide your personal data to the following third parties who assist us in the execution and administration of our services to you:

- companies providing software maintenance and support services;
- payment service providers;
- companies providing marketing services;
- companies of the Apranga Group, where they are responsible for carrying out certain specific functions assigned to them
- companies providing advertising, media planning, public relations and event organization services;
- companies providing SMS and newsletter services;
- on the basis of your consent, your personal data may be transferred to our franchise partners of your choice, such as companies in the Max Mara Fashion Group (Max Mara s.r.l.), for the purpose of providing you with information about offers related to discounts, promotions, sales.

Your personal data may also be provided to:

- law enforcement authorities in accordance with the procedure provided for by the legislation of the Republic of Lithuania;
- public authorities and courts, where such an obligation is imposed by applicable law.

5. WILL YOUR DATA BE TRANSFERRED OUTSIDE THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC AREA²?

In most cases, personal data are processed and transferred within the territory of the European Union and the European Economic Area, but, where necessary for the provision of certain services, they may be transferred and processed outside these territories, subject to an adequate level of protection of personal data. Where permitted by law and necessary for the reasons set out in Clause 4 herein, we disclose information about you:

- on the basis of an adequacy decision of the European Commission, which means that the European Commission has recognised the country in which the third party is established and/or carries out its activities as having an adequate level of protection of personal data
- if we have signed a contract with a third party based on the Standard Contractual Clauses approved by the European Commission;
- if we have obtained the permission from the State Data Protection Inspectorate;

² The European Economic Area consists of all the member states of the European Union and Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway.

- if we have used, where possible, other available personal data protection measures and derogations.

6. WHAT RIGHTS DO YOU HAVE?

- Right of access to your personal data processed by us

You have the right to obtain our confirmation as to whether we are processing your personal data, as well as the right to have access to your personal data processed by us and to information about the purposes of the processing, the categories of data processed, the categories of recipients of the data, the duration of the processing, the sources of receipt of the data, the use of automated decision-making, including profiling, and the meaning and consequences for you.

- Right to rectification of personal data

If the data you have provided to us in your registration form has changed or if you believe that the information we are processing about you is inaccurate or incorrect, you have the right to request that we rectify the information by logging in to your account, and failing that, you have the right to rectify the data by sending an email to info@apranga.lt, or by sending a data subject request to dataprotection@apranga.lt in Lithuania.

- Right to withdraw consent

Where we process your data on the basis of your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time and the processing based on your consent will cease. In some cases, this may mean that we may no longer be able to provide you with further access to our services. You can modify (withdraw or re-grant) your consent to receive offers and product information in your account, in the Newsletters tab. By sending direct marketing content information to the data subject by email or other form, we provide the customer with a convenient, free and simple (easy) opportunity to opt-out of receiving further such information. All you have to do is click on the unsubscribe link from the information notice or newsletter sending service in the information notice or newsletter. Opt-out of the information notice or newsletter sending service also withdraws the data subject's consent (to receive future newsletters) to the processing of personal data for the purpose of direct marketing.

- Right to lodge a complaint

If you believe that we are processing your data in breach of data protection law, we always ask you to contact us directly first. We trust that, with your goodwill, we will be able to resolve all your doubts, satisfy your requests and rectify our mistakes, if any. If you are not satisfied with the way we propose to resolve the problem, or if, in your opinion, we do not take the necessary steps to comply with your request, you have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority (in Lithuania, the State Data Protection Inspectorate (L. Sapiegos st. 17, Vilnius, Lithuania; email address: ada@ada.lt)).

- Right to object to processing where processing is based on legitimate interests

You have the right to object to the processing of personal data where the processing is based on our legitimate interests. However, taking into account the purposes of the provision of the services and the balance between the legitimate interests of both parties (you as the data subject and us as the controller), your objection may mean that we will not be able to continue to provide you with access to the services once we have ceased to process your data based on our legitimate interest.

- Right to erasure (right to be forgotten)

In certain circumstances listed in the data processing legislation (where the processing of personal data is unlawful, the basis for processing has ceased to exist, etc.), you have the right to request that we erase your personal data.

- Right to restriction of processing

In certain circumstances listed in the data processing legislation (where the processing of personal data is unlawful, where you contest the accuracy of the data, where you have objected to the processing of the data on the grounds of our legitimate interest, etc.), you also have the right to restrict the processing of your data. However, we must point out that due to the restriction of data processing and during the period of such restriction, we may not be able to provide you with the services.

- Right to data portability

You have the right to receive or transfer your personal data to another controller (right to data portability). This right only applies to data provided to us on the basis of your consent or on the basis of a contract and where the data is processed by automated means.

- Right to object to fully automated processing of personal data

You have the right to object to fully automated decision-making, including profiling, where such decision-making is likely to have legal consequences or similar significant effects for you.

7. HOW CAN YOU EXERCISE YOUR RIGHTS?

In order to exercise your rights set out in Clause 6 of the Privacy Notice, you may:

- you may deliver your request to exercise the data subject's rights (hereinafter – the Request)³ in person to the registered office of the Apranga Group or to the Data Protection Officer at the addresses set out in Clause 10 of the Privacy Notice (we will ask you to provide your ID document when submitting the Request);
- send a Request to the Apranga Group or the Data Protection Officer at the postal addresses set out in Clause 10 of the Privacy Notice (if you are not our customer, please attach a copy of your ID document to the Request);
- submit a Request to the Apranga Group or the Data Protection Officer at the email addresses set out in Clause 10 of the Privacy Notice (the Request submitted by email must be signed with a secure qualified electronic signature);
- in the case of a Request submitted through a representative, the Request must be accompanied by a document confirming the representation or a copy thereof, certified in accordance with the procedure laid down by the legislation, and the contact details of the person who wishes to receive a response concerning the exercise of the data subject's rights;
- the controller may, upon receipt of a Request and after assessing the specificity of its activities, the content of the Request and the information available on the data subject, additionally request the data subject to identify himself/herself by additional means or methods, if there are doubts as to the data subject's identity;

8. DO WE PROFILE YOU AND MAKE AUTOMATED DECISIONS?

³ The recommended form for the Request for the exercise of data subject's rights is available at the following link.

The Apranga Group may profile you for statistical purposes and to prevent the sending of unsolicited marketing offers.

9. ARE COOKIES USED ON THE WEBSITE?

Yes, we use cookies on the Website, you can find out more about the cookies we use in the Cookie Privacy Notice.
